Bridge mishap hospitalizes Bay cyclist

By JANET McQUEEN

A motorcyclist escaped serious injury when he smashed into an automobile whose driver reportedly attempted to negotiate a U-turn on the Bay St. Louis Bridge late Tuesday afternoon.

Roy L. Schubert, 18, of Bay St. Louis was taken by Mobile Medic to Gulfport Memorial Hospital where he was listed in good condition, suffering numerous cuts and abrasions.

The investigating Highway Patrolman, Officer Richard Smith, stated both vehicles were traveling east on the bridge when the driver of the automobile, Dennis M. Keel, 21, of Pass Christian, apparently crossed over into the left lane, apparently to turn toward Bay St. Louis.

Smith said the drawbridge was open at the time.

Keel was cited with making an illegal turn.

Assisting Smith in the investigation were officers Dave Sellier, Harris Boudreaux and Alton Benoit of the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

Council moves to save Bouslog EDA sewer extension project

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis City Council authorized Mayor Larry Bennett to ask Joe Brown Engineer to make a proposal to the City on the Bouslog Street sewer extension.

This action was taken after a lengthy discussion by the Council on possibility of losing the Economic Development Administration funds which have been transferred from the overpass project.

The Dunbar overpass project was scrubbed when state Supreme Court ordered busing of all students living one mile from schools.

Les Newcomb and Bob Landry, South Mississippi Planning and Development district, appeared before the Council on behalf of Garland Cooper of EDA, who reportedly had car problems.

Newcomb and Landry explained they were only speaking on behalf of Cooper and had spoken to him several times recently about the Bay St. Louis EDA grant on the sewer extension.

Council was told that the monies allowed for engineering fees in the original contract on the overpass are all that EDA is going to pay, and all engineering fees over the amount would have to be footed by the city.

Newcomb and Landry told the Council the EDA program is designed to put people to work.

"This project is bogged down - all we want is the project done and completed," added Newcomb.

Council was cautioned about the fact that the work done with the EDA monies will all have to be accounted for because the government will do an audit.

Councilman Wilmer Seymour as well as all the Council members present were concerned about the possibility of losing the 4,500 foot of sewer extension in the Bouslog area.

Council president James Thrifflie mentioned the fact that Burk and Associates, "haven't come up with anything," in the way of plans for the Bouslog St. sewer extension.

Councilman Fred Wagner commented, "We have an obligation not to make the mistake of hiring an engineer without having a contract. It is very important to get our monies worth out of engineers."

Mayor Bennett mentioned the fact that EDA's Atlanta office is interested in getting the project finished as soon as possible.

Thrifflie replied, "No matter the engineer, they are all at the same starting gate. We will up grade the work."

Councilman Pete Benvenutti, added, "I have done some checking with people in Atlanta to see what they say. I don't have any confidence in Burk. I feel certain we won't lose any money and I think we can use another engineer."

Councilman Seymour told the Council he, the mayor and representatives of Burk did a visual survey of the area and that, "I just didn't want to lose the money."

For the second time, Council was unanimous in the firing of Burk and Associates as Engineers at their July 18 meeting. Burk contends they have a binding contract made with the city in 1972.

In other action Council was unanimous in requesting the Mayor contact the firm of Broadway and Seal to check over the work in the two subdivisions now under construction in Bay St. Louis.

They are the Hanley Place and Westwood Subdivisions. The Mayor, Joseph Gex, city at-

John Waring, Piedmont general manager.

Waring said Wednesday the new service is authorized under a "military clause" of Civil Aeronautics Board regulations.

"Anyone who can fly under government order may avail themselves of the new service," Waring noted.

The airline's fares will be paid by the federal government, he added. Passengers will include military personnel, civilian government personnel and certain military and government contractors' employees, the airline executive noted.

Waring said the company hopes to expand the service to the general public sometime in the future.

"That will mean we will have to be listed in the Official Airline Guide and arrange schedules compatible with connecting airlines, as well as secure all the necessary CAB permits," Waring explained.

"We feel we will be providing a needed service for people at NASA, Redstone Arsenal and Washington at this time," Waring noted.

Two round trips each week between Bay St. Louis and Washington, D.C., with intermediate stops in Huntsville will be provided, the executive said.

He said the company hopes to extend the service to New Orleans in the immediate future for the convenience of NASA's Michoud personnel.

Waring is not yet sure which New Orleans airport will be utilized, International in Kenner or Lakefront in the northeastern section of the city.

The new service will originate between 4 and 5 p.m. Monday and Thursday.

Bay sailors edged in Sears Cup semis

By JANET McQUEEN

Only a slight difference in series point totals caused elimination of Skipper Dennis Stieffel, 15, and his crew after they tied for first place in Sears Cup Competition at Southern Yacht Club in New Orleans.

Stieffel, with brother Bish, 14, and Patricia Kemp, 14, represented Bay Waveland Yacht Club in the U.S. Junior Sailing Championships after having placed second in Sears Cup quarter-finals the previous week in Panama City, Fla.

Skipper Greg Sonnier, 17, of Southern Yacht Club was declared winner following a review of past sailing victories which showed two teams had identical first place laurels with the Bay Waveland trio won second place behind the Sonnier crew.

Although Sonnier will advance to the Sears Cup finals in San Diego, the Stieffel crew still experienced the thrill of a first place win and are not disappointed a bit, said Mrs. Ann Stieffel, mother of the Stieffel brothers.

A very close third place was won by another contender, Sam Hopkins, 15, of Gulfport Yacht Club who was one point shy of knotting up a three way tie for the top slot.

Also at SYC last weekend, Skipper Beau LeBlanc with crewman Elizabeth Santa Cruz of BWYC placed third in the Bouslog Cup semi-finals, the U.S. Junior Double-handed Championship. LeBlanc's brother, Dwight finished first, sailing for SYC and J. Oyede of Dallas was second.

Randy Santa Cruz, BWYC, finished fourth in the Smythe Cup finals, the U.S. Junior Single-handed Sailing Championships. Mark Shail, of Dallas took top honors in this class.

The Bay Waveland Yacht Club will be represented in the Mallory Cup semi-finals, the U.S. Men's Sailing Championship, by Bubby Eagan and the crew of his choice later this month.

Senior Citizens Happenings

MEXICAN PARTY
This center is a bee hive of activity, two big events in one week, gave our Seniors a variety of entertainment, that will remain in their Memories for a long time.

The July Birthday Party, Monday the 24th, was a huge success; equally successful was the Mexican Day Party.

To the Staff members who decorated the dining room, a beautiful job well done. Congratulations to Theresa Renee, Barbara, Ann, and Charles, for cooking a delicious Mexican dinner. They cooked the dinner at Theresa James home. The beverage was a fruit punch, but to keep in line with our event, we labeled it Mock Spanada.

Rev. Clark gave the invocation. Entertainment started with Louis Burghard on the piano and Fred Horn on drums; playing Mexican type dinner music.

After dinner the Seniors were entertained by six versatile young ladies, Rosalie Kergosien, Rebecca Williams, Sharon Fagot, Dayle Gagnon, Cassie Breland and Pat Monti, who did a wonderful rendition of The Mexican Hat Dance.

Louis Burghard, our versatile musician, played a medley of Mexican tunes on the Mandolin, and as usual Louis, a job well done.

The big surprise of the afternoon was the simulated bull fight - Jim Hoda, recreation director, played the part of the Matador. Guess who played the part of the bull? WRONG, it was two of our staff members, who played the part of elyes at the Christmas Party, Firecrackers at our Patriotic party. It was Susan Krost from Day Care Center and Renee Carver from the R.S.V.P. Office.

Congratulations to the three of you for a grand performance. Everyone who attended this event enjoyed every moment of it.

Oldest Seniors attending the party were Mrs. Mary Schilling and Susie Lanoux, 91 years of age, followed by Sidney Gonzales, 89 years of age.

The afternoon festivities concluded with the Oldest seniors taking a whack at two Pinatas (two Bulls and one Burro).

Each Senior is blindfolded before taking a swat at the Pinatas. A Pinata is miniaturized stuffed animals made out of bright colored paper stuffed with all kinds of surprise. It is the custom in Mexico to start off with the oldest person taking a swat at the Pinatas, to try and break them open.

The following Seniors tried unsuccessfully to break open the Pinatas, Mary Schilling, Susie Lanoux and Sidney Gonzales, Milton Inch and Sam Cudi. It took Yvonne Virgilio to finally break it open, with goddies scattering all over the floor. Honored guests were John Rutherford, County Clerk and Oscar Peterson, Beat 3 Supervisor.

It was the conclusion of a week, that was filled with activity.

A new class entitled liquid embroidery will be instructed by Debbie Yarbrough, nutrition staff member. The classes will be held every Tuesday at the center, from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. Any Senior interested in joining the class can do so by calling Debbie Yarbrough or Jim Hoda, 467-9292.

HIGHWAY ECONOMY

Good highways can mean dollars and cents income to the economy of Mississippi, says University of Mississippi business professor E. Nolan Waller. Waller, assistant director of the Ole Miss Bureau of Business and Economic Research, said that the state's highway system is far below the standards demanded by a modern economy. He noted that improved highways could help the state's economy in such areas as agriculture, industry, tourism and trade. Waller conducted a study of Mississippi highway financing earlier this year.

Have you ever?

We can remember from the old timers how certain people controlled the destiny of all the citizens of Hancock County.

We are happy that doesn't exist today, but there are still those who try to put political pressures on elected officials at times.

One of the ways to observe these pressures is by attending meetings of political bodies. At times you can read through the lines and see these pressures.

We hope those who try those old fashioned tactics will wise up, leave the county and state and go elsewhere.

We are now in the 20th century, our political leaders are wise, and the majority won't yield to those old fashioned methods.

We, as citizens, should be grateful to those officials who refuse to be pressured.

Breaux cites tour coverage

Editor
Bay St. Louis,

On behalf of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce I want to thank you for the excellent coverage we received concerning the Farm City Tour.

It was a most enjoyable day for all those who attended and we look forward each year to co-sponsoring this event with the Farm Bureau and County Extension Service.

Farin City Tour has been well received by the membership of the Chamber and their guests. It gives the business and professional community an enlightening view of the valuable resources of our county.

Once again, thank you for your coverage in the Sea Coast Echo and for your personal interest in the programs the Chamber has initiated.

Sincerely,
L. J. Breaux
Agricultural Chairman

Lauds library coverage

Mr. Cuevas:

Once again I am expressing my appreciation to you and your staff for the excellent coverage given to library activities. This summer the Hancock County Library System's Summer Reading Program reached more children than ever before.

The six activities at Waveland Library and fourteen activities at City-County Library had a total attendance of 2,043 children. I feel that the publicity these activities received in the Sea Coast Echo had much to do with the success of our program.

Again, thank you for your continued help and support in making the public aware of the many services of the Hancock County Library System.

Sincerely,
Prima Wusack,
Director
Hancock County
Library System

'SUNSET' LEGISLATION

With frustrated taxpayers demanding their money's worth from Congress and federal spending at record highs, it's past time that a system was developed for controlling the creation of new government programs and monitoring the success of existing ones.

I've joined many of my colleagues in co-sponsoring the Legislative Oversight Act of 1978, better known as "sunset" legislation.

As the name implies, the act would require a systematic review of federal programs, bringing some sense to the federal budget and letting the sun set on inefficiency and duplication.

As the ranking member of the House subcommittee which is holding hearings on the legislation, I've listened to testimony providing stark examples of expensive duplication in federal services.

For example, federal spending has increased by $172.7 billion since 1975 and the people are not getting any more for their money.

The General Accounting Office (GAO) has identified some 1,200 federal programs administered by hundreds of departments, agencies, advisory boards, committees, commissions and councils.

In 1971, the GAO found different child care service programs operating in the District of Columbia alone, administered separately by the U.S. Departments of Health, Education and Welfare, Housing and Urban Development and Labor.

Obviously, there is an acute need to get a handle on the federal government's outrageous spending practices.

without crippling the programs now serving useful purposes.

The Legislative Oversight Act is a brief piece of legislation which requires very few procedural changes and virtually no increase in the paperwork burden.

It would require that all spending bills state an explicit purpose and define criteria for measuring success or failure.

It would become effective in January, 1979, and agencies would automatically terminate every six years unless Congress acted to renew funding.

Additionally, a listing would be required of conflicting and overlapping programs in the same functional category and agencies would be required to report annually on how each program is meeting its stated objective.

Recognizing that efficient government is a priority of both the Executive and Legislative branches, the bill provides a means of examining the linkages among legislative intent, government spending and program performance.

Frankly, I fail to understand why the Democrat leadership of the House of Representatives opposes the bill, because it is totally non-partisan and would work for the benefit of all the people.

It offers the choice of continuing the current budgetary and spending practices or the challenge of adapting the Congress to modern times.

Above all, it would serve notice that Congress is ready to make a real effort to end inefficient, wasteful government and take direct responsibility for spending your hard-earned tax dollar.

sday in Washington, arriving in Bay St. Louis about 9 p.m., and later in New Orleans about 9:30 p.m., Waring said.

Flights from Bay St. Louis will depart at 6 a.m. Tuesdays and Fridays from Stennis Field, arriving in Washington before noon.

Initial service will be provided on Piper Chieftans, two-engine executive aircraft fully equipped and air conditioned, according to the company official.

Waring described the Chieftan as "very nice."

Webre said Piedmont's proposal to the Commission included the possibility the aircraft might eventually be upgraded to turboprop and then jet planes.

Dubbed the "Pretty Bird" service, the roundtrip between Huntsville and Bay St. Louis will run some $80, and the Stennis Field-Washington round trip will cost $252.

Piedmont operates mainly along the United States' northeastern coast, serving Georgia, Virginia, the Carolinas, Tennessee, Kentucky, New York, Washington, D.C., Chicago and some cities in Ohio.

The company reported some $180 million in passenger business last year, "so they should know what they're doing," Webre said.

The port director said success of the new venture at Stennis Field will depend on the extent the service is utilized by interests at NSTL.

"We hope the people out there will consider utilizing this service as much as possible, and give us a little help in that way," Webre commented.

Webre said the Commission has pending with the federal Aviation Agency an application for government financing of an instrument landing system at Stennis.

"Their requirements call for 15 scheduled landings at the airport as a minimum or a regular scheduled operation before they can consider us for the system," Webre pointed out.

City Council
City of Bay St. Louis
Re: Burk and Associates, Inc.

Gentlemen:

As you know I am the attorney for Burk and Associates, Inc. and in such capacity I must advise you that your actions on July 18, 1978 in attempting to cancel your contracts with Burk and Associates, Inc. are legally ineffective in that you do not have the jurisdiction or authority to unilaterally and arbitrarily cancel legally executed and binding contracts.

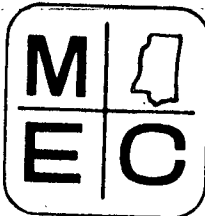

This is further to place you on notice that unless your actions are promptly rescinded, Burk and Associates, Inc. will have no alternative but to seek the assistance of a Court of competent jurisdiction in enforcing its contracts and must further seek recovery of all of its damages in this regard which are substantial. Your actions, I believe your attorney will advise you, without any complaint being made to you by the executive department of the City and without seeking legal advice as to the consequences for such actions exposes City to substantial claims for damages as well as the individual members of the board taking such actions.

We have met with you in an effort to negotiate our differences and are willing to continue to do so. I trust that you will authorize your attorney to negotiate on your behalf in order to save expenses of litigation as well as all damages which have accrued and will accrue as a result of your actions.

I can assure you that this letter is being written in the finest spirit with a view and purpose of seeking and finding a solution which will be to the mutual benefit and advantage of all parties.

Sincerely,
Michael D. Haas

MISSISSIPPI ECONOMIC COUNCIL --
THE STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

A CALL TO ACTION FOR THE FREE ENTERPRISE SYSTEM

Within the last year, a group of nationally recognized leaders met in Chicago. The group included congressmen, educators, representatives of the military, and businessmen.

After several days of discussion, the group concluded that the American free enterprise system would last approximately five more years.

They were not predicting catastrophic upheaval. Rather, they were saying that a continuation of present national policies, programs, and deficit - and a continuation of the burdensome bureaucratic rules and regulations - would finally become too great a burden for our economic system to bear.

In effect, they were saying the American economic system is being legislated and regulated out of existence.

United States Senator Carl Curtis once declared:

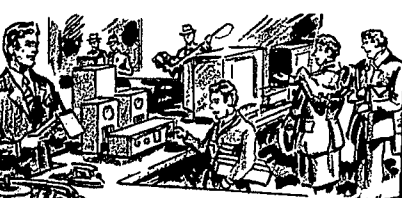

"Somebody is going to operate the politics of our country. If those people who are devoted to our Constitution and our way of life, to our system of free enterprise and the preservation of the blessings of freedom, are not involved in politics, somebody else will be. If businessmen shun politics, others who may not understand or agree with the businessman's view of government will be making the laws under which the business community will have to live."

The point is, the American business community cannot afford to sit idly by and "permit" or "acquiesce" to the destruction of our American free enterprise system. Businessmen and businesswomen need to understand now the urgency of their involvement in the public affairs of this nation. And, they need to commit themselves now to the task of changing the direction of the nation's economic system - before it is too late.

MISSISSIPPI CONSUMER REPORT

A Service of the Consumer Protection Division Of The Office Of
A. F. Summer, Attorney General

LET'S BUY A NEW CAR

Q: I'm thinking of buying a new car. What information is available on this?

A: Consumer journals and magazines contain information on road tests, and practical features such as gas mileage, repair record, and performance rating. Automobile magazines focus on style and performance. These sources are available at the local library. The Better Business Bureau may also be helpful in providing information.

Q: What are some of the things you should check before buying a new car?

A: Check the interior features. Be certain there is enough head and leg room for you and your passengers. See that the seat belts are long enough. Check the gas mileage, and try to "road test" the car also. The odometer is another inside feature to check. Take the car through a car wash to test for any leaks. Check the brakes and paint job. If any adjustments are needed, get it in writing. Make sure all problems are taken care of before you take possession of the car.

Q: What kind of warranties usually come with new cars?

A: Most cars have a 12-month or 12,000-mile warranty, whichever comes first. But some are "limited warranties," which means they cover only certain parts, or just parts and not labor. If you are offered an extended warranty at additional cost, be aware that this is more of a service contract than a warranty and understand the terms before you buy.

Q: What is "dealer prep"?

A: Dealer preparation is a total inspection of the new car. Take advantage of this and have the dealer note that it is complete on your bill of sale. It is your only evidence of problems that might crop up again later.

GESTURE OF APPRECIATION - In a gesture of appreciation for services rendered, Mrs. Richard (Jean) Garcia and daughter Earlene, 12, present a check for $100 to Waveland Mayor John Longo. The money is earmarked for special funds of the city's police and fire departments. Longo called the Garcia's gesture, "an expression of real citizenship." (Staff photo-Edgar Perez)

HEALTH TIPS

from the AMA

IMMUNIZATIONS HALT MANY KILLER DISEASES

Immunization is a priceless health asset. Vaccines to prevent smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and typhoid fever have been available for many years. Whooping cough, polio and "flu" vaccines were later added to the list. And most recently we added vaccines to protect against measles and mumps. Immunization produces such a light form of a disease that the body reacts against it without becoming sick. This is called active immunity.

Passive immunity is acquired from injections of protective substances produced in the body of an animal or another person.

Infants receive passive immunity from their mothers against most common infectious diseases their mothers have had, such as measles, and this immunity protects them during the first few months of life.

A pamphlet from the American Medical Association points out that before 1900 diphtheria was among the most dreaded diseases of infants and children.

Early in the century diphtheria toxoid was developed to protect children against this mass killer.

Diphtheria toxoid is customarily given to small children in combination with tetanus toxoid and whooping cough vaccine for the basis immunization of children against all three diseases.

Whooping cough killed many children before a potent vaccine was perfected in the early 1930's. Deaths continue to occur where vaccination is neglected.

Tetanus immunization is of growing importance, the AMA pamphlet indicates tetanus germs, which lie dormant in the soil, may contaminate wounds sustained in auto accidents, sports, gardening natural disasters, fires or explosions.

Booster doses are needed every ten years or whenever a wound that could be infected occurs more than a year after immunization.

The Sabin oral polio vaccine is administered by mouth on a lump of sugar or in sweet liquid.

A booster dose of the combined Sabine vaccine after 12 to 15 months and on entering school insures immunity to all three polio viruses.

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics.

By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

I see a lot of movie ads on television now, and wondered if you think the theatres will go entirely away from print ads. A Movie Fan.

Dear Fan: It's not very likely. Movies, of course are reemerging as a fairly stable member of the entertainment establishment. And one reason is, whatever we may think otherwise, they offer what large segments of the public wants in adventure, drama and comedy.

The ads you see on television are simply previews to entice viewers to come to the movies. This wasn't necessary previously when most movie goers were regulars and previews were an in-house promotion before the main fare.

Newspaper is and will remain the main medium for movies, however. It's traditional and still viable.

Like any printed source the newspaper provides a directory of screen offerings as permanent as the paper itself. Many movie fans subscribe to out of town newspapers to keep up with the theatre schedules, and keep it from one issue to the next as a ready reference.

Most theatre-goers like their ads to appear along with others because it gives the whole section more pull.

TV will be used to promote movies in the future, to be sure.

But the main effort will continue to be in the newspaper, primarily because TV stations do not run all the offerings and generally are for only a first release.

Another shortcoming of electronics, in this regard, is that you must be watching or listening when an announcement is made. With print it can be read anytime, at your convenience or leisure, and saved for future reference.

In this regard it might also be noted that most TV viewers select programs from print media schedules.

So don't look for any big changes in movie listings in your newspaper. There's no reason to believe there will be any.

Mayor Bennett breaks ground

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The first phase of construction, the home's exterior, will cost an estimated $12,000 and is scheduled for completion by the end of September, according to Wayne Ducomb, spokesman for the Jaycees.

The Jaycees plan on doing all of the labor themselves on the single-story wooden building. The Jaycees have enough funds for the exterior construction materials and have had some donated. When the exterior is completed, the Jaycees will ask for donations from the community to finish the interior of the building.

Charlie Oliver, external vice-president led the group with the Jaycee Creed.

The Bay St. Louis Jaycees had been trying for sometime to purchase property to build a Jaycee home. They made the purchase of the St. John St. property months ago.

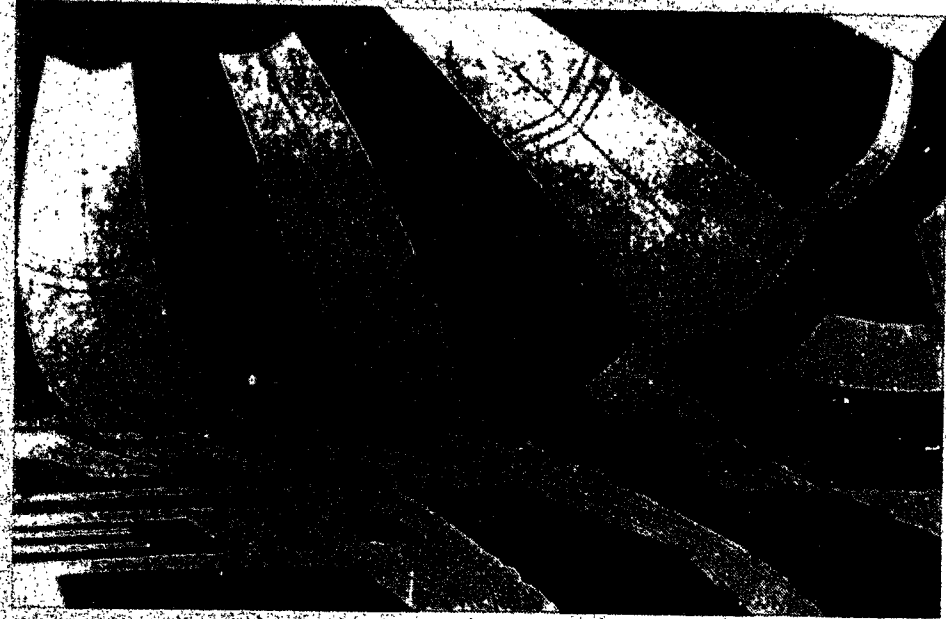

Father Larry Rubera, Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, gave the invocation and benediction.

Mayor Bennett, before turning over the first shovel of dirt, expressed his appreciation for being given the opportunity of participating in the ceremony.

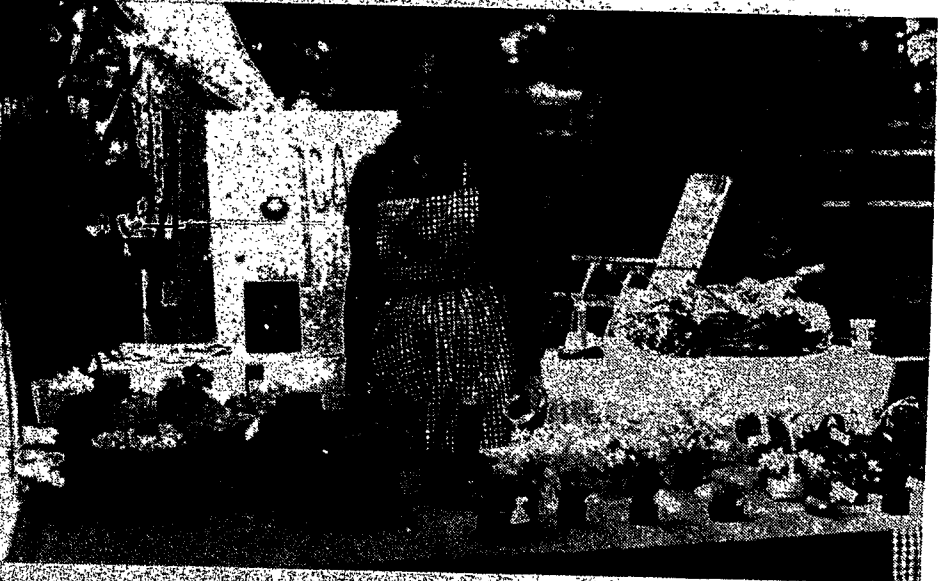

Bennett offered any assistance the Jaycee organization may need in building the new 40 by 50 foot building.

BIG DAY FOR JAYCEES - Saturday, July 29, 1978, will be a day to remember for the Bay St. Louis Jaycees. After many months of search for a suitable piece of property to build their home, they recently purchased a piece of property on St. John Street. At the Saturday groundbreaking were the following: left to right, Mac Haas, Wayne Ducomb, state director, Bobby Adam, director; Bill Hoffman individual development vice-president; William "Bew" Jordan; Nick Rauxet, secretary; Gary Collins, internal vice-president; Charley Barrack, director; Charles Oliver, external vice-president; Mayor Larry Bennett; and Steve Deubert, president. Father Larry Rubera gave the invocation and benediction for the ceremony. (Staff photo - Ellis Cuevas)

COMMUNITY INTERESTS
The residents of Bay St. Louis and Waveland are asked to get involved in the recreational activities offered at Buccaneer State Park. Community involvement is an important part of the leisure life and I would like to see more participation in the activities offered at the Park from local residents. Perhaps some of you readers would like to get a particular class organized, all it takes is a phone call to the Park, 467-3822 and arrangements could be made and the class scheduled. Already we have scheduled ladies exercise class, basket class, Friday night movies, Saturday morning crafts for kids, but the list is endless and I would like some help from local residents.

Vanpooling latest commuter idea for traveling workers

In an effort to encourage the use of vanpools, the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District has contracted with the Mississippi Fuel and Energy Management Commission to promote company-sponsored vanpooling in Southern Mississippi.

The SMPDD has designed an information program which will be distributed to major employers within the coming weeks.

In addition to information being provided to employers on how to establish and maintain a vanpool program, an SMPDD staff member will also be available to a limited number of employers to act as coordinator and problem solver until their program is established.

Vanpooling is an attractive commuting alternative where employees ride to work together in a modern, comfortable and reliable van, which has been purchased or leased by the employees' company.

Participating employees pay a low monthly fare that is lower than the cost of driving alone and covers the operating and capital costs of the commuting van.

The Department of Transportation has recently released information which demonstrates the financial savings to employees whose company participates in a vanpool program.

On the average, DOT estimates that a person who commutes 30 miles round trip each day to his place of employment spends about $100 per month.

However, in a company-sponsored vanpool program, an employee spends on the the commuting distance increases.

According to Robert DeBusk, Coordinator of the SMPDD project, vanpooling is an idea developed by private industry that benefits nearly everyone.

DeBusk stated that "employees are provided an opportunity to commute in comfortable vans that are both reliable and economical; employers benefit in such troublesome areas as parking and congestion, labor market, employee relocation, attendance and tardiness, and public relations; and, communities get energy savings, better air quality and less highway congestion."

For further information concerning the program, employers and employees are encouraged to contact Robert DeBusk, at 868-2311 in Gulfport, or by writing to 1020 32nd Avenue, Gulfport, Mississippi 39501.

Police organizations offer guidelines on 'deadly force'

The American Law Enforcement Officers Association and the National Association of Chiefs of Police have distributed to every police and sheriff's department a recommended Guideline for the Use of Deadly Force.

The distribution list includes 17,000 municipal departments and 3,000 county sheriffs and another 23,000 private security managers who may employ armed special officers.

Chief Robert Ferguson, national president, said guidelines on the use of deadly force came as a result of a survey conducted by the association after a series of incidents in which firearms have been discharged resulting in accidental deaths, or in some cases murder, indecent and civil law suits.

"Basically," he stated, "we are spelling out to both the officer and to the community that the burden and responsibility placed on law enforcement officers who are armed is often in a stress situation."

The moment anyone fires a single round that person becomes the state's judge, prosecutor, jury and often executioner. The law itself is, only tolerant of deadly force when a person is involved in the commission of a felony," he continued.

Thus a person, not armed but who has engaged in a felony could be legally shot and killed.

However, the U. S. Court of Appeals in St. Louis ruled that a fleeing felon who is NOT violent cannot be shot at. This upheld a decision on another case in Omaha where a $4 million lawsuit was filed by the victim's mother.

"Because of these and other cases we felt our police association should enact guidelines for our members and for all armed law enforcement personnel," Ferguson added.

The guidelines now in effect are:

1. That each officer knows that it is his duty to try and make an arrest without use of force and then no more force than may be necessary. That only when the officers life is in danger or that of other persons will the officer consider use of a firearm.

2. That because officers are armed that they will maintain a high proficiency of training and never fire warning shots. That the state and community must bear the responsibility with the officer for his actions in their defense.

3. That if a felon is escaping and the officer is not able to stop him or her that no attempt will be made to use deadly force unless the felon has a weapon, has used a weapon and is a clear danger to the community.

4. Finally, that those persons who arm themselves to carry out a crime do so at their own peril and the only response to persons who have a weapon is deadly force and that officers will shoot to kill in such cases. Armed felons leave no choice to police in such class.

Ferguson has also called upon the states to enact stringent training requirements for special officers.

"I have noted that for every municipal or county officer we have ten private guards, often armed. The pages of newspapers are spattered with the blood of victims of reckless use of firearms by either untrained guards or those who lack sufficient training," he explained.

"I want to see the same standards apply in all states as they do to regular police officers and that firms carefully review the need of armed guards against the need for just security personnel who are unarmed in crime resistance situations," Ferguson stated.

The American Law Enforcement Officers Association is comprised of law enforcement officers from all ranks and departments in the United States. It has been joined in this program by the National Association of Chiefs of Police (NACOP). Headquarters is in Washington, D.C. 2000P St. N.W.

Whatever happened to Gainesville?

Spirit of lost town revived on NASA tour

By JOE PILET

Ambrose Gaines had everything to win and nothing to lose when, with a roving eye and itching heel, this handsome young medical doctor arrived in the settlement of Cottonport located on the beautiful Pearl River.

He came prior to the time when Mississippi was a state and before Hancock County was formed.

The Cottonport settlement seemed prosperous and there were people who needed "doctoring." A sizeable amount of cotton was being rafted or barged downstream to the Port of New Orleans.

The year was probably 1809. Dr. Gaines decided this a likely spot to start a practice of medicine. In making inquiries he learned there were some "squatters" and some land owners with uncertain titles. The land was beautiful and there was mass confusion. Dr. Gaines entered a claim and a land grant was issued in 1810 to Ambrose Gaines and signed by John V. Myrales, a representative of the Spanish Government.

The land embraced 500 arpents (something over 500 acres). Delighted with his newly acquired property, it was promptly re-named "Gaines Bluff."

Dr. Gaines generously gave small parcels of the land to the squatters and claimants and then he planned a town and sold plots.

In so doing these real estate transactions brought him considerable wealth for that place and at that time.

Meanwhile, in 1817, Mississippi became a state and Hancock County was formed. Dr. Gaines had to pay taxes on land and a slave he owned. Total taxes ran $2.75.

Water transportation in those days made Gainesville, Pearlinton and Biloxi the three most important towns in South Mississippi.

"Physician heal thyself" In the yellow fever epidemic Dr. Ambrose Gaines died along with many others who were victims of the dreaded "black vomit."

Gainesville lived on as a trading center, an important logging and lumbering community and a trappers' paradise.

The first county seat of Hancock County, located in Old Center, was moved to Gainesville in the early 1830's (the exact date when Gainesville became the second County seat has not been verified). The Courthouse burned in 1863 and all the old records were lost. Gainesville, however, remained the County Seat until 1867.

Whatever happened to the bustling, thriving, pioneering river town named Gainesville? The L. and N. Railroad was built in 1840 and with that event water transportation was no longer of prime importance. The population shifted gradually to the coastal community.

But still, on a winter's night, they say - when the wind is in the trees, the spirits of Pierre Rameau, hot-headed Murrel, and Copeland, the terrible - these pirates and freebooters of infamy in old Gainesville and Honey Island Swamp - move through the shadows, checking on booty and buried treasures.

Copeland - hanged for murder. Rameau deserted the American cause and was killed with the British in the Battle of Chalmette. And Murrel, bravest and boldest of the lot, escaped from the dungeon at Old Center and his fate has been lost in oblivion.

Whatever happened to Gainesville? Ask the birds that sing in the early stillness of morning. Seek an answer from the reptiles that sun themselves along the river's bank - perhaps the alligators may be able to tell you.

When all else fails we suggest you take one of the tours provided by NASA. Thousands of visitors do. You, too, may walk on the grounds once a land grant to Ambrose Gaines. Who knows, you could kick up an arrow head, or a mini ball, or a button from a Confederate soldier's uniform - or a fossil.

Whatever happened to dear old Gainesville? Take the tour and see for yourself!

MHP pistol team scores bullseye

During the month of July, the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol (MHSP) Pistol Team earned a first place in Dallas, and a second place title in Baton Rouge shooting competition.

In the Max Countryman National Rifle Association Regional Matches held in Dallas, the MHSP team won first place with a score of 2382, only two points shy of the national team record.

Team members included Officers Jim Woodard of Crystal Springs, Ken Dunlap of Clinton, Jim O' Cain and Mitchell McNece of Mantachie.

During individual matches, a Secret Service agent took first place, a Federal Bureau of Investigation representative took second place, and third, fourth and fifth places were taken by Officers Dunlap, McNece and O' Cain, respectively.

SUMMER

August

Fertilize established lawns in late August. Use 10 pounds of 16-8-8 or similar analysis fertilizer per 1000 square feet on good lawns and 20 pounds per 1000 square feet on poor lawns.

Plant narrow leaved evergreens. Dig the hole 12 inches wider and six inches deeper than the root ball. Then add enough peat-soil mixture in the hole so that the plant sits at the same depth in which it was originally growing. Fill the hole two thirds full of soil. Then water to settle the soil. Don't pack the soil with your feet—you'll break roots. Wait until spring to plant hemlocks, firs and broadleaf evergreens.

Apply maleic hydrazide (MH-30) to potatoes and onions while they are still in field to prevent sprouting in storage.

Maintain disease and insect control spray applications on fruit trees, small fruits, vegetables, flowers, and ornamentals. Always follow instructions on the pesticide label before using.

Plant a fall vegetable garden with cool season crops such as lettuce, radishes and spinach.

September

Seed the bare spots in your lawn that are larger than your hand. Use a mixture of 1 pound grass seed and 1 pound fertilizer in 1 bushel of soil. Add a handful to each bare spot, then scratch it in with a garden rake.

Improve poor lawns with fertilizer. Fertilizer alone should do the job if you have a 40% stand of good grass. If the lawn is extremely thin, add 1 pound of bluegrass per 1000 square feet in addition to fertilizer.

Kill dandelion, plantain and other broadleaf weeds in your lawn with 2,4-D. Be careful to keep the chemical off other plants. Grape, tomato, and redbud plants are especially sensitive.

Plant ground covers, such as myrtle, vinetree and pachysandra on steep banks, around shrubs and in shaded areas.

Prune dead and diseased limbs from trees. Paint all wounds immediately with wound dressing.

Take house plants indoors before killing frosts occur. Repot if necessary. Watch for insects and spray or wipe foliage weekly to remove dust.

Canoe series finale is Pearl Classic

Veteran canoe racers as well as beginners from across the South will gather at Riverside Park in Jackson Saturday for the second annual Pearl River Classic Canoe Races.

The Pearl River Classic, the sixth and final leg of the second annual Pearl River Boatway Canoe Racing Series being sponsored by the Pearl River Basin Development District and the Pearl River Valley Development Association is sponsored by the Central Mississippi Sierra Club.

This race is the climax of the six-race Canoe Racing Series that began in April. Racers have competed in each race for trophies, ribbons and Series points. At the conclusion of this race these points will be tabulated and grand prize trophies will be awarded to the racers who have accumulated the most points in the aluminum, fiberglass and open divisions. Also scheduled in the day's events will be a cross-country foot race, The Sierra Club Five-Miler.

Twenty trophies and 42 ribbons will be awarded to the first ten place finishers in aluminum, fiberglass and open classes. Two additional trophies will be awarded to the best time by entrants aged 12-16 years.

The race course is approximately 10 miles, beginning at the Ross Barnett Reservoir Spillway and finishing at Riverside Park.

Entry fee is $5.00 per person with a minimum age of 12 years. Entrants 18 years old or under must sign a release or have a notarized release signed by a parent or guardian.

Riverside Park, a model urban recreational development constructed by the Pearl River Basin Development District, Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, and the City of Jackson, will be the location for the races.

This park, which was recently refurbished, contains picnic facilities, a new adventure playground, nature trail, tennis courts, golf course, swimming pool, and comfort stations. The park is located on I-55 North at the Lakeland Drive Exit.

Entry blanks and race details may be obtained by writing 238 Lawrence Road, Jackson, 39206 or by calling 354-6301 or 981-5757.

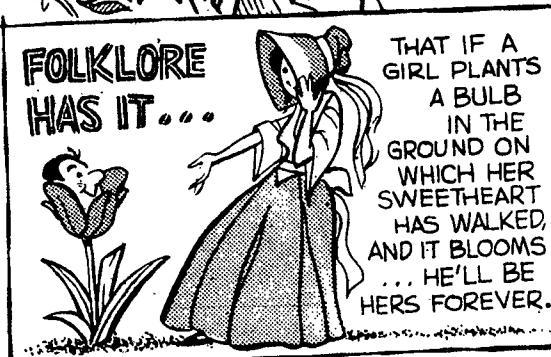

PEARL RIVER CLASSIC - Canoe racers Chris Beggerly and Mickey McKissack grimace as they pass under the finish line of last year's Pearl River Classic Canoe Race. Beggerly and McKissack were last year's Grand Prize trophy winners in the Aluminum Division. Final event of this year's canoe racing series will be at Riverside Park in Jackson Saturday.

New boundary divides state hunt season

With the hunting season just around the corner, dove and teal seasons were announced this week by the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission.

Northern zone hunting will open September 2 and run through September 24. The southern zone will open its first season September 23 and extend through October 15.

Opening concurrently in both zones, the second and third dove seasons will extend from November 14 to December 6, and from December 23 to January 15. Zone boundaries have been changed this year. Highway 84 from Natchez east to the Alabama line now divides the state. Highways 12 and 14 were previously used.

The daily dove limit is 12 and the possession limit is 24. Shooting hours are from noon until sunset.

A nine day season for teal will run from September 9 through September 17. The daily bag limit is four and possession limit is eight.

Hunting by licensed falconers is allowed during any regular migratory season.

Last week Game and Fish Director Joe Stone attended the Mississippi Flyway Council in Kansas City, Missouri.

Waterfowl prospects and season dates for upcoming seasons were considered by the Flyway Council, and regular season dates will be announced soon.

Cheerleaders of SSC win top awards

The St. Stanislaus cheerleaders recently returned from the National Cheerleaders Association summer workshop where they received top recognition as the most spirited squad at the camp.

The workshop was held at Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College in Perkinston and attracted over 300 cheerleaders from Mississippi and Louisiana.

The St. Stanislaus cheerleaders were selected for this high award by all of the cheerleaders at the workshop on the basis of their unity, friendliness, cooperation, leadership, and sportsmanship to the other squads attending.

The presentation of the Spirit Award came at the completion of a full workshop of training on cheerleading techniques, cheers, chants, jumps, partner stunts and pep rallies, as well as leadership seminars on sportsmanship, crowd participation, responsibility, organization and dedication.

The St. Stanislaus cheerleaders participating in this clinic were Captain Fran Sallinger, Suzi Kergosien, Missy Trentel, Renee Jarreau, Delanie Ladner, and Stacie Comeaux.

In addition to the Spirit Award they received one excellent and three superior ratings, three spirit stickers and recognition as a Super Star Squad.

Saturday at the commissioning of COMTE DE GRASSE (DD-974).

The destroyer is the 15th ship in the series of Spruance-class destroyers being produced for the U.S. Navy by Ingalls Shipbuilding division of Litton Industries.

The commissioning will be the first of two such ceremonies scheduled in August at the Ingalls facility. The STUMP (DD-978) will become the 16th destroyer to join the Navy Fleet during commissioning Saturday, Aug. 19. It is the sixth of eight ships scheduled to be delivered to the Navy in 1978. Ingalls is building 30 of the 563-foot destroyers whose main mission is anti-submarine warfare.

With the commissioning of the STUMP, more than half of the ships in the program will have been delivered to the Navy, while seven others are in outfitting in preparation for delivery and the rest are in various stages of construction.

Of the 14 Spruance ships in service, nine are with the Pacific Fleet and five with the Atlantic Fleet.

COMTE DE GRASSE is named for French Admiral Francois Joseph P. Comte de Grasse (1722-1788), a hero of the Battle of Yorktown in the American Revolution. Admiral Comte de Grasse's French fleet inflicted a decisive defeat on a British naval force at Chesapeake Bay. Later, he helped draft the treaty that officially ended the War of Independence.

COMTE DE GRASSE will be commanded by Commander Frank J. Lugo of Brooklyn, N.Y., and homeported at Norfolk, Va.

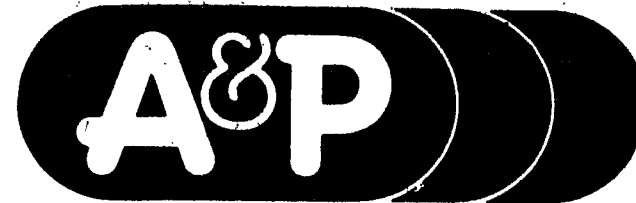

Madame Valery Giscard d'Estaing, wife of the President of France, christened COMTE DE GRASSE May, 1976, in Pascagoula during her Bicentennial visit to the U.S.

Last Saturday, the 23rd Spruance ship was christened CUSHING at Ingalls. Now being outfitted at the shipyard, the destroyer was named in honor of Cdr. William B. Cushing, much decorated hero of the Civil War.

OFF TO CAMP - The Pass Christian High School varsity cheerleaders lumber up before leaving Monday for the final session of the National Cheerleaders Association summer camp held at Perkinston campus. The girls will attend classes in cheering, tumbling and pom-pom routines as well as take part in daily evaluation sessions, for which ribbons will be awarded. Left to right, bottom: Tracy Warren; Karen Newman; Loreta Wimberly; captain, Glenda Gregory; Cecos Carden; Angela Payne; and Gretchen Hawthorne. Top: Pam Brown; Carolyn Barnes and Lynne Gilling.
